

How to Complete the Wee Readers Board

Color in one block each time you and your child:

- Read for 15 minutes
- Attend a Library Program
- Complete an activity in one of the bubbles on the game board

Each time your child colors in little fish, stop by the library, log your progress and your child will earn a prize.

When you complete the game board, your child will receive a book.

To help children and families develop critical early literacy skills, our Early Literacy Program has been adopted using Every Child Ready to Read®, an early childhood literacy program developed by the American Library Association. Our Wee Readers program incorporates the five practices of the Every Child Ready to Read® program, Reading, Writing, Singing, Playing, and Talking.

All prizes are as supplies last. Must be completed and checked in by Friday, August 30th

Reading:

Reading together is the single most effective way to help children become proficient readers. Reading develops vocabulary, comprehension, and general knowledge needed to understand books when they get older.

Writing:

Reading and writing go together! Scribbling and drawing are forms of writing and help develop hand eye coordination and fine motor skills.

Singing:

Singing slows language down so children can hear the different sounds in words and is a fun bonding experience, whether you're a good singer or not! Singing also develops listening and memory skills.

Playing:

Play is a primary way young children learn about how the world works and helps them practice putting their thoughts into words.

Talking:

Children learn about language by listening to parents and caregivers. Talk to them about your daily activities, different events, and ideas to expand their vocabulary. Very young children can understand spoken words long before they can speak.
